

"A PALATINE FAMILY IN SOUTH CAROLINA" AND RELATED MATERIALS, 1933-1963, 4 cu. ft., folders 1-166.

The series entitled "A Palatine Family in South Carolina" and Related Materials consists of genealogical research files, family correspondence, research notes, and manuscript drafts pertaining to the publication of the Quattlebaum family genealogy. The research files are organized by Quattlebaum family branches as follows: Johannes/John line; Johannes/George line; Peter line; and Matthias line. Each folder corresponds to an individual with an assigned reference number. In some instances information on descendants of a particular person may be included in the folder which bears that person's name. This arrangement follows exactly the published genealogy of the Quattlebaum family which appeared in the South Carolina Historical and Genealogical Magazine in 1947 and 1948. A photocopy of the published article and a classified index of this genealogy are located in folder #1 and serve as finding aids. The family correspondence files are arranged alphabetically by correspondent or subject, and each folder is organized chronologically. Miscellaneous research notes and two drafts of the manuscript are found at the end of the series.

Paul Quattlebaum was an avid history and genealogy buff. He began investigating his family history in 1933, and his efforts resulted in the publication of "Quattlebaum: A Palatine Family in South Carolina" in the South Carolina Historical and Genealogical Magazine (vols. 48 and 49) in a serialized format over a two-year period. This article traces the family's first appearance in North America in 1736 and documents the migrations of subsequent generations to South Carolina and other southern states. Quattlebaum's methodical research produced a steady flow of inquiries and correspondence with relatives throughout the United States. An outgrowth of Quattlebaum's research was the formation of the Quattlebaum Clan, Inc., which organized family reunions.

The genealogical files consist of form-letter inquiries, correspondence, and clippings dealing with specific members of the family tree. The correspondence files cover more general family matters and also contain photocopies of research materials such as maps and deeds. Important correspondents include South Carolina historians J. Harold Easterby, Anne King Gregorie, and A. S. Salley. Additional Quattlebaum family information can be found in M. M. Quattlebaum, Quattlebaum Family History (1950), located in Clemson University Library's Special Collections.
