BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Donald B. Stafford served as Clemson faculty member in the Civil Engineering Department 1968-1994. This collection of photographs reflects his continuing research interest in the use of aerial photography as a tool for engineers.

Stafford was born in Forsyth County, North Carolina to S. Ben and Lillie Teague Stafford, on October 30, 1938. He attended North Carolina State University where he received his bachelors (1961), masters (1963) and PhD (1968) all in Civil Engineering. During his career at Clemson, he focused upon the use of aerial photography to help solve a number of engineering problems ranging from the location and planning of highways to coastal erosion. He was a member of a number of professional associations including the American Society of Civil Engineers, American Society of Photogrammetry, and the Institute of Transportation Engineers and actively participated in these associations. Stafford taught a number of courses related to transportation and supervised thesis and dissertations mainly in this area. He was a member of a number of committees including the department and college curriculum committees, the Library Self Study Committee, and the University Traffic and Parking Committee.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The collection consists of 8"x10" and oversize aerial photographs of South Carolina between 1938 and 1975. The 8x10 photos are individual aerial photographs of specific areas in a county. There are several sets of photographs of the Clemson area of Pickens County and a series of views of Highway 11 that runs through the foothills of Oconee, Pickens, Greenville, Spartanburg and Cherokee counties from 1971. There are two types of oversize photographs: 20"x25" composite aerial photographs of South Carolina counties based upon splicing together a number of aerial photographs; and a 25"x25" series of individual aerial photographs for parts of Greenville and Spartanburg counties. The photographs are arranged by size and thereafter alphabetically by county and therein chronologically. Some photographs have been annotated.
