BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Dr. Harold Ernest Cheatham had a long career in higher education, with a teaching and research focus on multicultural counseling. He is the author of numerous professional papers and editor or co-editor of several books. He was also a Fulbright Senior Scholar in India (1990-1991). His achievements have been recognized with numerous awards and honors including recognition as a pioneer in multicultural counseling and development by the American Psychological Association (1997), as a recipient of the Grazella Shepherd Award for Excellence in Education from the Case Western Reserve Alumni Society and Educators Forum (2000) and as a recipient of the Clemson University Board of Trustees Award for Faculty

Excellence (1997, 1998, 1999, 2000).

After his retirement from Clemson University in 2001, he continued his commitment to service by joining numerous humanitarian missions to Africa, Vietnam and Haiti.

He was born in Pennsylvania on January 29, 1937. He has a wife, Arlene, and two sons, Mark and Brian.
