Scope and Contents Note

Senator Thurmond was noted for the volume of his correspondence. With very few exceptions, all correspondence that included a return address was answered, regardless of the writer's state of residence. This resulted in an immense library of form letters on topics ranging from agriculture to the environment to health issues to veterans affairs.

The typical correspondent was either voicing an opinion or requesting assistance of some type. The opinion mail, categorized as "Issue Mail" covers the widest range of topics. Responses ranged from simple "I appreciate having the benefit of your views" letters to multi-paragraph letters reiterating

Senator Thurmond's views on the subject at hand. A sampling of Issue Mail was retained. For incoming form letters, a single sample was retained and the number discarded was noted. For unique incoming issue mail, a 20% sample was retained and the number discarded was noted.

Correspondents requesting individual assistance were usually writing about a problem they were having with a government agency, especially a benefits agency such as Social Security or the Veterans Administration. The Senator's office typically forwarded these cases to the appropriate agency, retaining a copy for their files. Much of this correspondence was discarded as it contained sensitive information such as medical records, salary history, arrest records or family problems. A small selection of cases that appeared to have necessitated some involvement on the part of the Senator's office was retained, though sensitive information was redacted. Also discarded were any requests that the Senator's office referred to a Senator in another state because the writer was a member of that state's constituency.

Other material discarded from this series includes requests for government documents, declined invitations, unsolicited resumes, duplicates, and thank you notes. Some of the major issues and/or topics documented in the this series include: AIDS, Alcoholic Beverage Labeling Act, Americans with Disabilities Act, Cable Television Consumer Protection Act, China Policy Act, Clean Water Act, Civil Rights Act, District of Columbia: Statehood, Family and Medical Leave Act, Food and Drug Administration, Hatch Act Reform Amendments, Hurricane Hugo Recovery, Individual with Disabilities Education Act, Medical Information Privacy and Security Act, Medicare, Mental Health Equitable Treatment Act, National School Lunch Act, Social Security "notch issues", Strategic Defense Initiative, Title X Pregnancy Counseling Act, and Wetlands Conservation.

Correspondents in this series include: Lee Atwater, Haley Barbour, Sol Blatt, Jr, Alan Cranston, Governor Carroll A. Campbell, Jr, Senator Tom Daschle, Marian Wright Edleman, Senator Al Gore, Jr, Senator Bob Graham, Bob Jones, III, Max Lennon, Senator Trent Lott, President Richard M. Nixon, Governor Mark Sanford, Senator Ted Stevens, HRH Prince Bandar Bin Sultan, Gertrude Thurmond, Sam Walton, and Essie Mae Washington Williams

Constituent Correspondence Series 23, 1989 - 2002

Physical Description: Strom Thurmond Collection, Series 23: Constituent Correspondence

Arrangement

This series is arranged chronologically by year and alphabetically by topic within each year. The records within each topic or subtopic are arranged chronologically.

To request materials

Request materials using the manuscript number (Mss 100), series name (Constituent Correspondence), year, box and folder number. The designator "CCxx" after the box number is an internal location cue and does not have to be included.

Series Description

The Constituent Correspondence Series is a continuation of the Correspondence Management System (CMS) Series and covers the period from 1989 until the Senator's retirement in 2002. Most of the material in this series consists of correspondence from constituents with Senator Thurmond's response. The remainder is correspondence from colleagues, government officials of various levels, friends and family. Various reports, maps, newspaper or magazine articles which append and/or support the correspondence are included.

Senator Thurmond was noted for the volume of his correspondence. With very few exceptions, all correspondence that included a return address was answered, regardless of the writer's residency. This resulted in an immense library of form letters on topics ranging from agriculture to the environment to health issues to veterans affairs.

The typical correspondent was either voicing an opinion or requesting assistance of some type. The opinion mail, categorized as "Issue Mail" covers the widest range of topics. Responses ranged from simple "I appreciate having the benefit of your views" letters to multi-paragraph letters reiterating Senator Thurmond's views on the subject at hand. A sampling of Issue Mail was retained. For incoming form letters, a single sample was retained and the number discarded was noted. For unique incoming issue mail, a 20% sample was retained and the number discarded was noted.

Correspondents requesting individual assistance were usually writing about a problem they were having with a government agency, especially a benefits agency such as Social Security or the Veterans Administration. The Senator's office typically forwarded these cases to the appropriate agency, retaining a copy for their files. Much of this correspondence was discarded as it contained sensitive information such as medical records, salary history, arrest records or family problems. A small selection of cases that appeared to have necessitated some involvement on the part of the Senator's office was retained, though sensitive information was redacted. Also discarded were any requests that the Senator's office referred to a Senator in another state because the writer was a member of that state's constituency.

Other material discarded from this series includes requests for government documents, declined invitations, unsolicited resumes, duplicates, and thank you notes.

Historical Note

Senator Thurmond's office staff used a series of database systems to help manage correspondence. From 1989 to 1990, they used the Constituent Services System (CSS) and from 1991 to the mid-1990s, the Senate Mail System (SMS), both developed by the Senate Computer Center. In the mid-1990s, the Computer Center stopped supporting these systems and Senate offices moved to stand-alone correspondence management software. Two earlier Thurmond correspondence series, Subject Correspondence and CMS, were named for the systems used to organize them. Because the systems change at a rapid pace after 1988 and are not easily distinguishable, the final correspondence series is simply Constituent Correspondence.
