Message from the Director

For the second year in a row our Graduate Assistant has received the Outstanding Graduate Assistant Award in the College of Health, Education and Human Development. I'm sure each of you join me in congratulating Aaron Temples on this award and thanking him for his hard work on our behalf last year. Aaron has accepted a teaching position in Greenville.

Several of you have encountered some computer glitches lately so let me offer a few reminders. You must have a valid Clemson userID in order to participate in special offers for faculty such as the computer Big Buy. Even though you are an emeritus faculty member, you cannot "log on" without a Clemson user ID. You can check email through a different server such as Bellsouth.net or AOL but you cannot "log on" to the Clemson site. If you do not have a Clemson userID and want one, contact Sandra Shands, 656-8102. SHS@clemson.edu.

Also, remember that passwords must be changed on a regular basis. You will receive a reminder notice from CCIT when your password is about to expire. If you do not regularly check your account, it may expire and be discontinued without your knowledge. If this happens, contact Sandra Shands or the Emeritus College Office.

SPECIAL FEATURE: Hopewell House

Built in 1785 by Revolutionary War General Andrew Pickens, Sr., Hopewell House stands at Cherrys Crossing on the Cherry Farm owned by Clemson University. General Pickens married Rebecca Calhoun, cousin of John C. Calhoun. Their 12 offspring included former Lieutenant Governor Ezekiel Pickens, and former Governor Andrew Pickens, Jr. The house, which is on the National Register of Historic Places, was one of several homes Pickens built in the southeast. The Emeritus College is currently in discussion with University administration concerning the possibility of the College occupying and being responsible for restoration of the House. For more information, contact the Emeritus College office.
