'Include similar terms' Tips:

When to use...

- If you do not know the spelling of the keywords.
- If you don't find the item you're looking for using simple search, use this as a second step for searching.
- If you are not sure whether the word is in a plural form.

When not to use...

- If you feel confident in the search criteria entered – product description, supplier, etc.
- For descriptions with numbers. The search engine is not designed to parse numbers when in this mode. Numbers are only okay in the catalog # field, but is not recommended for the first four fields.
