Mary Katherine Littlejohn radiated love and loyalty for Clemson from her home at 114 Daniel Drive, built by her family in 1937. Popular in the community, as an author and speaker, she was perhaps best known for her two volumes of "Tales of Tigertown."

Mary Katherine Littlejohn
1921 - 2001
From her family home at 114 Daniel Drive, Mary Katherine “Sooky” Littlejohn radiated love and loyalty for Clemson. After serving in Paris during World War II in the Army Special Services, Ms. Littlejohn studied and worked in New York before returning to Clemson. Following in the generous legacy of her parents, she established a scholarship to honor them — the James Corcoran and Mary Poats Littlejohn Memorial Scholarship.