Clemson University
Globalization Lecture Series, Spring Semester 2011
Free and open to the public
Lectures are from 7:00-8:00 pm in Jordan Hall G033 (the auditorium on the ground floor of Jordan Hall) with the exception of the China lecture

Date:  Tuesday, February 1, 2011
Topic:  Democratization in Africa
Speaker:  Patrick Tandoh, Strom Thurmond Institute
Place:  Jordan Hall Auditorium, G033
Time:  7:00 pm

Date:  mid-February 2011 (exact date TBA)
Topic:  Economic Development, Chinese Architecture and International Influence
Speaker:  Chengzhi Lu, President, WWCOT-China
Place:  TBA
Time:  TBA
Co-sponsors: Center for China Studies and School of Architecture

Date:  March 1, 2011
Topic:  Pros and Cons of Globalization: French Political Perspectives
Speaker:  Eric Touya, French section of the Department of Languages
Place:  Jordan Hall Auditorium, G033
Time:  7:00 pm

Date:  Tuesday, March 15, 2011
Topic:  Globalization and International Medical Protocols: Influences on Urban Form
Speaker:  Robert Hewitt, Department of Planning and Landscape Architecture
Place:  Jordan Hall Auditorium, G033
Time:  7:00 pm

Date:  Tuesday, April 5, 2011
Topic:  Living and Working Abroad
Speaker:  David Dreher, retired American foreign service officer
Place:  Jordan Hall Auditorium, G033
Time:  7:00 pm
Co-sponsor:  International Week organized by International Student Programs, Gantt Center for Student Life

The Globalization Lecture Series is sponsored by the Department of Political Science. All lectures are followed by a question period. The Lecture Series Director is Dr. Michael Morris, Department of Political Science, Brackett Hall 232-D (e-mail address: morrism@clemson.edu). Graduate assistant, Patrick Tandoh (e-mail address: ptandoh@clemson.edu)