

Senior Resumes

December 2017 Graduates

Graphic Communications majors at Clemson University are known for their practical, hands-on backgrounds. These students take technical course work that covers all areas of production in all the major printing processes. They also take a variety of other courses such as business, management, marketing, and computer science, in order to become well-rounded. In addition to their diverse coursework, they complete a minimum of two internships in the industry.

The Department of Graphic Communications has a group of talented graduates at each of the University's three annual commencements-May, August and December.

This information is provided in a PDF format for your convenience. The students' resumes are presented in alphabetical order. Please take the opportunity to review the on-line credentials of those students nearing graduation. To contact any of these prospective candidates, simply click on the direct e-mail links contained within their resumes.

DESIGN • PRODUCTION • INSTALLATION

> PROFILE

I am a creative professional with a previous track record in all aspects of graphic printing, ranging from concept design to installation. With visual art as my first love, I am a freelance artist that fell in love with the graphics industry. Throughout my four years of experience I have also found pleasure in the hands-on side of production and installation, as it comforts my perfectionist attributes. My driving qualities are my passion for art and my itch to travel the world and meet as many people as I can.

Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity | Creative Director

Clemson, South Carolina | 2013 - 2017

As the creative director all four years for my fraternity, I held a number of responsibilities. I was in charge of designing t-shirts for special events, painting chariots for greek week, decorating for functions, making cover photos and logos for PR, and designing and building the annual floats for Homecoming in the fall.

3V Signs & Graphics | Design Intern

Hermosa Beach, California | 2015 - 2015

I spent my first summer in Southern California completing an internship working under the company's head designer. However, in July his wife gave birth to their first child and he took a month off, leaving me to fill his shoes. At 3V I had to design signs and banners, send out proofs, check emails and work with customer desires, send designs to the Roland printer and cut-vinyl plotter, work in the back of the shop in production, and answer the phone.

Campus Banner + Design | Design Intern

Clemson, South Carolina | 2016 - 2017

My second internship was completed at Clemson's on-site print shop, Campus Banner and Design. I continued to work there for a little over a year because I loved the flexible hours, comradery around the office, and convenience of an on-campus job. Working for CB+D I had to delegate tasks, make job quotes, design signs, banners, logos, and graphics, complete installs, work in the production room, organize storage rooms, and make deliveries.

Ink Monstr | Production Intern

Denver, Colorado | 2017 - 2017

During my third internship at Ink Monstr in Denver, I was used all over the shop as a kind of utility man. I got to design graphics and apparel, I laminated and produced stickers, banners and graphics, and I got a ton of experience installing. By the end of the summer I was wrapping all kinds of vehicles in vinyl, applying tall graphics on scissor lifts and even driving the truck and going on installs by myself.

EXPERIENCE

INK MANAGEMENT INTERN | WIKOFF COLOR | SUMMER
 2017

I spent my time with the Wikoff team at the Meredith Webb printing company. I worked closely with those in the ink lab, on the production floor, and the account executives. I formulated ink; color matched, and performed QC on inks for brands such as Coca-Cola and Jack Daniels. Brand colors are crucial, and during my time at Wikoff I learned how to have the patience to perfect, but also the enthusiasm and focus to complete the task efficiently. My teams' job also included troubleshooting color issues on press. Most of the time, the problem stemmed from another source, so this helped me to get to know the process and think outside the box. I would say the most important thing I learned during this internship is that all roles in print production are important. Time management, communication, and teamwork are what it takes to execute successful press runs.

CUSTOMER SERVICE | CAMPUS COPY SHOP | JAN-NOV
 2016

In this position I was able to practice my design skills on projects such as brochures, banners, and invitations. I also learned how to operate and maintain toner based electrophotographic machines. I enjoyed the customer service aspect of this job, and working closely with our customers to deliver the highest quality of results.

PRODUCTION/MARKETING INTERN | MARLEYLILLY |

In this position I learned about large-scale production of retail goods. I worked in vinyl, heat press, dye sublimation, and engraving. As an intern I was able to take on a leadership role where I helped to train and guide workers in these departments. I also spent time creating content for social media posts.
