

Terms and Conditions for Clemson University's Vaccination Upload Incentive Promotion

September 8, 2021

Who is eligible.

Students are eligible to enter if they are admitted and enrolled as a student for the Fall 2021 academic semester. To receive a prize, students must also be enrolled at the time the prize is received.

Employees are eligible to enter if they are employed at Clemson University at the time they enter the contest. To receive a prize, employees must also be employed at the time the prize is received.

Students and employees are eligible to enter if they have completed the series of COVID-19 vaccinations. For purposes of this promotion, to be considered as having completed a series, a student or employee must receive two doses of the Pfizer or Moderna vaccines, one dose of the Johnson and Johnson vaccine, or receive a World Health Organization approved vaccine.

How to enter.

Eligible students and employees may enter by uploading their vaccination information and record via the university's upload tool ( <https://cvd19-test-upload.app.clemson.edu/vaccine/>). Students and employees who cannot be vaccinated due to medical conditions or sincere religious beliefs may also enter by submitting an alternate entry form. To obtain an alternate entry form, students and employees should send an email to IncentiveEntry@clemson.edu. All eligible entries must be received by 11:59pm local time on September 30, 2021. All valid uploads of vaccination information and records before the entry deadline will be valid entries, even if they were uploaded before the announcement of this incentive program. Clemson University shall make all final determinations on the validity of any entry in its sole and absolute discretion. By submitting an entry, students and employees agree to these terms and conditions. Additionally, by submitting an entry, you agree that Clemson University may publicize and utilize your name, image, and directory information regarding your award. No purchase is necessary to win. Entry is voluntary. COVID-19 vaccination is not required for students or employees at Clemson University. Each employee or student may only submit one entry. Clemson University is not responsible for technical or other issues that interfere with submitting an entry. Clemson University reserves the right to modify or change the Vaccination Upload Incentive Promotion terms and conditions at any time.

What prizes will be awarded.

All students who submit a valid entry will receive $50 in Paw Points loaded onto their TigerOne card. All students who submit a valid entry may also receive one of the following:

- A $300 Barnes and Noble gift card (20 to be awarded).
- A new iPad or laptop (10 to be awarded). The model awarded shall be at Clemson University's discretion.

- Two academic semesters of an unlimited campus meal plan (Unlimited 300 plan) (5 to be awarded). These plans expire when the student ceases to attend Clemson University or at the end of the Spring 2022 semester, whichever comes first, and are also subject to all normal dining plan terms and conditions. Winning students who purchased a meal plan for the Fall 2021 semester shall receive the unlimited plan as a substitute, and a refund for their purchased plan.
- Free tuition at Clemson University for one year, net of university-funded financial aid (1 to be awarded). An academic year shall be any two academic semesters. This prize may not be used for tuition beyond the Fall Semester of 2022.

All employees who submit a valid entry may receive one of the following:

- A Tervis or Hydroflask drinkware item (up to 1,200 to be awarded, based on availability).
- A 50 meal employee campus dining plan (150 to be awarded). These plans expire when the employee ceases employment with Clemson University, and are also subject to all normal dining plan terms and conditions.
- An iPad (50 to be awarded). The model awarded shall be at Clemson University's discretion.
- A reserved parking space on campus for one calendar year (10 to be awarded). The location of the reserved parking space shall be at the university's discretion. The reserved space may not be used beyond the employee's employment with Clemson University and will be subject to all University parking regulations, including modified operations of game days.

Clemson University reserves the right to substitute any prize for another one of similar value, in Clemson University's sole discretion. Prizes have no cash value and may only be claimed in the form awarded by Clemson University. Prizes are non-transferable. Winners are responsible for any taxes related to their prizes.

How prize winners will be selected.

All students who submit a valid entry will receive $50 in Paw Points. Paw Points will be loaded to student accounts. All other prizes will be awarded by random selection among valid entries in a process determined by Clemson University after September 30, 2021. Winners will be notified via their Clemson email account and shall have 30 calendar days to claim their prize following the instructions contained in their notification. Any unclaimed prizes are forfeited. A student or employee may only win one prize, except for the $50 in Paw Points awarded to all students submitting valid entries.
