

Clemson University Public Safety Citizens Academy

The Clemson University Public Safety Citizens Academy is an educational and informative opportunity for participants to learn about the issues impacting public safety efforts in our community. The program will provide insight into the philosophy and operations of CU Public Safety, to include Police, Fire/EMS, and Emergency Management. The Citizens Academy creates engagement opportunities to better understand public safety work in the community and develop stronger ties between our community and public safety departments.

Applications may be submitted via the online form located on the Clemson University Police Department website:

<https://www.clemson.edu/cusafety/cupd/public-safety-academy.html>

There is not cost to participate in the Citizens Academy and class size is limited to 20 participants.
