

A beautiful piece of South Carolina history resides here at Clemson. Hanover House, built in 1716, is an early French Huguenot colonial design listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

If these walls could talk.

As you walk through the doors you ge a true sense of how life might have been in South Carolina in 1716. This beautiful

Lowcountry home has been housed in the South Carolina Botanical Gardens since 1994, and is a living piece of history for our state and for Clemson University. Furnished with 18th and 19th century artifacts and open to the public, Hanover House is a link to our past and an inspiration for our senses. But this architectural treasure cannot last forever without your support.

Your gift to Hanover House will ensure that this significant property can be preserved and enjoyed for generations to come. For three centuries, this home has stood as a reminder of our unique cultural heritage. Help us celebrate its 300th birthday by considering how you might help Hanover House remain standing for another 300 years.
