Welcome Gregory Ball, Budget Manager

About Gregory

This week's New Employee Spotlight is Gregory Ball! We are excited to welcome Gregory to the Clemson Family and have no doubt that his work will benefit the University. Gregory is thrilled to be starting his position as budget manager responsible for coordinating the University's internal budget development process.

Greg was recruited from University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Virginia but originally hails from Livonia, Michigan. Greg earned his undergraduate degree in Computer Science at Brigham Young University and then his Masters in Business Administration from University of Virginia.

And Clemson welcomes Greg's family, which includes his wife and six children. Three of Greg's children attend BYU while the other three moved to Clemson.

"I was looking for an opportunity to get more involved in financial planning and analysis. I was really impressed and intrigued about the opportunities and the collaborative working environment I saw here at Clemson as well as the opportunities for growth," said Gregory. He added that he is most excited about the wonderful people that he has had a chance to get to know and the many opportunities to help Clemson further its strategic goals and initiatives.

Welcome to Clemson, Gregory! Go Tigers!!!!

"Greg is a great example of how competitive and far reaching our candidate searches are. We are proud he's decided to join the growing Clemson Family."

—Vivian Morris,
Director of Onboarding & Retention
