The Clemson University 403(b) Plan

The Clemson University 403(b) Plan can help you to save money for a secure retirement. The Plan offers benefits and advantages, including:

- Pre-tax and/or Roth after-tax contributions conveniently through payroll deduction
- Lower current taxable income with pre-tax contributions
- Opportunity for tax-deferred growth and the power of compounding
- Diverse selection of investment options

ELIGIBILITY

All Clemson University faculty and staff (excluding student workers) are eligible to participate in the 403(b) Plan upon date of hire.

EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS

You may contribute on a pre-tax basis, Roth after-tax basis, or a combination, up to the annual contribution limits set by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). In addition, if you are age 50 or older, you are eligible to make a catch-up contribution over and above the annual contribution limit. Visit corebridgefinancial.com/rs/contributionlimits to see the maximum amount you can contribute to the 403(b) Plan. You can increase or decrease your contribution amount at any time.

ROLLOVERS INTO THE PLAN

You may be able to transfer your vested retirement account balance from a prior employer's retirement plan to the 403(b) Plan. This may be a way to simplify your financial profile and ensure your overall investments are suitably diversified and consistent with your investment preferences.

However, before moving funds, check with your previous employer's retirement plan provider to determine if your account has any restrictions or imposes a withdrawal penalty or charges.

VESTING

Vesting is a participant's right of ownership to the money in his or her plan account. You are always 100% vested in your own contributions and any rollover contributions to the 403(b) Plan plus any earnings they generate.

BENEFICIARY DESIGNATIONS

Make sure you designate your beneficiaries for your 403(b) Plan. Don't forget to update it when there's a major change in your life—like a marriage, new child, divorce or death.

INVESTMENT OPTIONS

You decide how to invest all contributions based on the investment options available under the 403(b) Plan. For a complete list of the investments available in the 403(b) Plan, including performance, descriptions, fees and other information, go to Corebridge Financial and/or TIAA.

Investment values of the mutual funds you choose will fluctuate, and there is no assurance that the objective of any fund will be achieved. Mutual fund shares are redeemable at the then-current net asset value, which may be more or less than the original cost. Investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Fund Annual Operating Expenses apply depending on the mutual funds chosen and are described in the prospectus.

INVESTMENT TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS

Generally, participants may transfer assets from the Fixed-Interest Option², available through Corebridge Financial, or TIAA Traditional³, available through TIAA, into equity options at any time. After 90 days, they may transfer from equity options into another fixed-income option, such as a money market fund, a stable value fund or certain short-term bond funds, if such “competing options” are allowed in the 403(b) Plan.

LOANS

Loans are currently allowed by the 403(b) Plan. For any loans taken through your account with Corebridge, there will be a one-time fee of $50 charged as an initial setup cost and a $50 annual fee assessed for the administration of each loan repaid through the ACH loan repayment process where repayments are deducted from your savings or checking bank account.

For any loans taken through your account with TIAA, there will be a one-time fee of $75 charged as an initial setup cost and a $25 annual fee assessed for the administration of each loan repaid through the ACH loan repayment process, where repayments are deducted from your savings or checking bank account.

Defaulted loan amounts (not repaid on time) will be taxed as ordinary income and may be subject to a 10% federal early withdrawal tax penalty if you are under age 59½.

Any participant who requests a loan will be required to log in to the Clemson University Retirement Manager at myretirementmanager.com and obtain the certificate of eligibility document to receive approval for your loan.

WITHDRAWAL OPTIONS

The 403(b) Plan was established to encourage long-term savings. Funds can generally be withdrawn from your vested account balance under one of the following circumstances:

- You’ve attained age 59½
- Retirement or severance from employment
- Your death or total disability
- Financial hardship

In addition, you must begin taking required minimum distributions once you reach age 73 if you were born January 1, 1951, or later (The RMD eligible age will increase to age 75 after December 31, 2032); Reach age 72 if you were born after June 30, 1949, and before January 1, 1951; Reach age 70 ½ if you were born before July 1, 1949.

Withdrawals prior to age 59½ may be subject to a 10% federal early withdrawal tax penalty.

Any participant who requests a distribution or withdrawal from the 403(b) Plan will be required to log in to the Clemson University Retirement Manager and obtain the certificate of eligibility document to receive approval of your distribution or withdrawal.

DISTRIBUTION OPTIONS

There are several distribution options, allowing you to tailor your benefits to meet your individual needs. Your distribution options include:

- Transferring or rolling over your vested account balance to another tax-advantaged plan that accepts transfers or rollovers
- Electing systematic or partial withdrawals
- Taking a lump-sum distribution
- Choosing one of the annuity options available
- Deferring distributions until you reach age 73 if you were born January 1, 1951, or later (The RMD eligible age will increase to age 75 after December 31, 2032); Reach age 72 if you were born after June 30, 1949, and before January 1, 1951; Reach age 70 ½ if you were born before July 1, 1949; or severance of employment, and allowing your account to continue to grow on a tax-deferred basis

Any participant who requests a distribution or withdrawal from the 403(b) Plan will be required to log in to the Clemson University Retirement Manager and obtain the certificate of eligibility document to receive approval of your distribution or withdrawal.

TAX INFORMATION ABOUT WITHDRAWALS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Generally, income taxes must be paid on all amounts you withdraw from the 403(b) Plan. A 10% early withdrawal tax penalty may apply to distributions taken prior to age 59½. Qualified distributions from a Roth account are tax-free. Generally, a qualified Roth distribution is a distribution that (1) is withdrawn after the end of the five-year period beginning with the first year in which a Roth contribution was made to the 403(b) Plan and (2) is after reaching age 59½, death or disability.

Consult your financial professional for more specific information.

ADMINISTRATIVE FEES

Clemson University allocates plan administrative expenses equitably to all plan participants. The annual 403(b) Plan administration fee is assessed quarterly to participants' accounts. Each participant will see an "Administrative Fee" on quarterly statements, and that fee will be the same for all plan participants. Currently, the administrative fee with Corebridge is 0.11% based on total plan assets and is subject to change over time. The administrative fee with TIAA is 0.07% based on total plan assets and is also subject to change over time.

In addition, as you may be aware, each mutual fund investment option available in the 403(b) Plan has an associated expense ratio or management fee. Often, all or part of administrative expenses are paid for in revenue-sharing dollars embedded in the 403(b) Plan's mutual fund investment options. When participants choose investments with revenue-sharing agreements, they may, in effect, be paying more of the 403(b) Plan's expenses than those participants who choose investments without revenue-sharing agreements. Investments with revenue-sharing agreements provide mutual fund reimbursements to Corebridge and to TIAA for services performed on behalf of the investment company. When this occurs, Corebridge and TIAA will credit this money each quarter back to participants invested in the option that generated the reimbursement during the quarter.

The amount credited to a participant's account is based on the participant's daily average balance in those mutual funds. Reimbursements are credited quarterly, and administrative fees are charged quarterly. Therefore, you may see a credit for applicable revenue sharing and a charge for agreed-upon administrative fees.

These fees will be visible on your quarterly 403(b) Plan statements, available online through Corebridge or through TIAA.

COREBRIDGE FINANCIAL DISCLOSURES

Important considerations before deciding to move funds either into or out of a Corebridge retirement services account

There are many things to consider. For starters, you will want to carefully review and compare your existing account and the new account, including: fees and charges; guarantees and benefits; and, any limitations under either of the accounts. Also, you will want to know whether a surrender of your current account could result in charges. Your financial professional can help you review these and other important considerations.

This material is general in nature, was developed for educational use only, and is not intended to provide financial, legal, fiduciary, accounting or tax advice, nor is it intended to make any recommendations. Applicable laws and regulations are complex and subject to change. Please consult with your financial professional regarding your situation. For legal, accounting or tax advice, consult the appropriate professional.

¹ The principal value of an investment in a target date fund is not guaranteed at any time including at or after the target maturity date. The target date is the approximate date when investors plan to start withdrawing money. The fund will gradually shift its emphasis from more aggressive investments to more conservative ones based on its target date. Some target date funds maintain a substantial allocation to equities both prior to and after the target date, which can result in greater volatility over shorter time periods. If an investor plans to retire significantly earlier or later than age 65, the funds may not be an appropriate investment even if the investor is retiring on or near the target date. Read the prospectus carefully before investing.

² Policy Form GFUA-504, a group fixed annuity issued by The Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company.

Investors should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, fees, charges, and expenses before investing.

Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. Investment values will fluctuate and there is no assurance that the objective of any fund will be achieved. Mutual fund shares are redeemable at the then-current net asset value, which may be more or less than their original cost.

Annuities are issued by The Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company (VALIC), Houston, TX or The United States Life Insurance Company in the City of New York (USL), New York, NY. Guarantees are backed by the claims-paying ability of the issuing insurance company and each company is responsible for the financial obligations of its products. Beginning January 1, 2026, USL will be Corebridge Financial's sole authorized issuer of new annuities in New York.
